Roadmapping The Digital (r)Evolution

FinTech is the answer, but what is the question?

Technology has been making its way into our business for years, however, particularly the finance sector has never experienced the speed or volume of new changes and innovation that is currently coming to market.

Fintech (financial technology) is one the most dynamic and fastest growing sectors in Europe, but the hardest to get right. Adopting technologies but also methodologies and philosophies dedicated to creating and disrupting businesses is not a “natural fit” for traditional, risk averse, fast follow financial services companies.
